RANKING ADMINISTRATOR 2012 REPORT

For the period from October 2011 to the end of September 2012, the activities of the ranking administrator have been to continue to provide an up-to-date ranking list as close to the start of the following month as possible. The ranking data from 2011 onwards is available on the Archery NZ website.

In terms of competitions and rounds shot, for the period October 2011 to the end of September 2012, there have been 64 events, and 1136 rounds shot by archers. In this case, an event means a round shot on a day, or maybe 2 events for two rounds shot in the same day e.g. a two 72 arrow rounds. The 72 arrow incorporation seems to be working well, and I hope everyone is happy with the expanded output in the results tables. What is interesting to me is the distribution of 72 arrow rounds to 144 arrow rounds, with an almost 1:2 ratio between the round types. Clearly the 72 arrow round is very much a part of our activities now.

Finally to the organisers of all major tournaments, could I please see the results are sent electronically to the Ranking Administrator after every event (preferably as an Excel file as it is easier for me to process), it makes life easier for everyone, as they can see their results immediately, and scores do not get left out. In addition, sometimes it is hard to work out the divisions, especially for JAMA archers, so including this for every event would be appreciated. As far as international events are concerned, the Ranking Administrator continues to monitor these, though if you have shot overseas, please send me a link to, or the results, yourself.

I am always open to comments and suggestions to make the ranking system better, so please contact me if you have any ideas.
